Category   : Furniture / Facility

Description   : However, since you only want to take one element from the bootstrap CSS file, you will have to override ALL the other elements if you don't want to see the bootstrap styles on your other elements. This I DON'T recommend. My suggestion is to examine the styling for the certain element that you want to use from bootstrap and then just recreate it in your own CSS file.

Objective   : The concept of loading a secondary CSS file after the bootstrap CSS file would be to override certain elements and create your own styles.
